Event Description

Situated in the Laramie Range of Southeastern Wyoming, the course is a challenging 72.5 miles climbing over 8,600 vertical feet, all above 7,500 feet elevation. The route is a fast and extremely fun loop, covering no ground twice, except the initial/final 0.8 miles. It includes virtually every kind of trail and surface a mountain biker is likely to encounter in the Rockies, from wildlife trails to single track to dirt roads. This event is not for the casual or beginner rider.

Course Description

72.5 miles, the initial/final 0.8 miles is repeated in opposite directions. We are not allowed to post the map on the website per USFS requirement.
